

THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION.

VOL. XXII.

COLQUITT'S VIEWS

ABOUT THE GUBERNATORIAL CAMPAIGN IN GEORGIA.

REVIEW OF THE POLITICAL FIELD.

We Do Not Look for a Repetition of the South Carolina Scene in Georgia, But Think That All Will End Well.

ATLANTA, Ga., June 30.—[Special.]—Senator Colquitt returned from Georgia. But he has no time to go over the political situation today. The gubernatorial race has been decided. Mr. Norther has held sometime, and for a while it was thought that the committees to doubt, are numerous. Colonel Colquitt is recognized and esteemed as a talent. He has friends in every state, but he enters the canvass with a good record and character of Mr. Colquitt's in his favor are not withdrawn. These gentlemen, who enter upon a joint canvass, and are to predict a positive result."

"There is much agitation and excitement?"

"What I could learn in my brief visit, was more apparent than real excitement."

"What likely the scenes in South Carolina will be reported in Georgia?"

"I do not think so, and I hope and pray that they may not be. The people of Georgia are more and more enthusiastic in their nature, but they are thoughtful and level headed. They have not, in the past, been hurried by momentary passion or impulse, into extremes and excesses. They will not now, in the future, be tempted into any street that will threaten the harmony and peace of the democratic party. Only one wild and restless utterance reached my ears, an overzealous zealot said that he wanted many, money, and he was for anybody or any party that would give him money. This was an exceptional case. The sentiment was rebuked by the people. They understand too well the functions of government. They have been educated in the patriotic and democratic idea that they support the government; that governments do not support the people; that it is not the end of government to make people rich, but to meet them in making themselves rich."

"You are not, then, any schism in the Democratic party?"

"There is some uneasiness on the subject, but I do not contemplate it. It is not forgotten that the democratic party relieved us in the days of reconstruction of adventurous vagabonds, treacherous scalawags and vampires, who upon our own substance. We are now associated with the same calamity. While this great party remains unbroken, I will not relinquish the hope that the efforts to humiliate the south, will be defeated, and that the contest will be conducted to a successful issue. This is not a time when the democrats can spare any of its natural allies, and every patriot in the south who loves home, peace and security should stand by it and strengthen it."

THE AUGUSTA POSTOFFICE.

At 12 m. Saturday received a telegram from Atlanta this morning to hold up Denning's nomination as postmaster until charges can be preferred. Later in the day, R. W. Wright, a colored republican from Augusta, who made application for the office, put in his appearance, and filed some very damaging charges against Denning. Wright has secured the aid of well known Georgia republicans here, and will make a strong fight against Denning. Among other things, Wright claims Denning's physical condition is such that he will be unable to attend to the duties of the office. Senator Colquitt will endeavor to defeat Denning's confirmation. Assistant Postmaster-General Clarkson is also expected to oppose the confirmation when he returns from the west, as he stated before he left that if he could help it, Denning should never be appointed. The appointment was made by Wauhank, at Buck's earnest request, without Clarkson's knowledge, and as the latter wanted Major Boice retained, it is probable he will raise a howl upon his return.

NEW POSTAL ROUTES IN GEORGIA.

Mr. Candler today had a new postal route established in Jackson county, making a circuit of the county. He also had six new post offices established in the county.

Mr. Candler today received notice that George Williams, of White county, had passed the examination and was admitted to the West Point military academy. Only one Georgia boy besides himself passed the examination successfully.

GEORGIA'S CLAIMS.

Mr. Clements was heard by the appropriations committee this morning, favoring an appropriation of $35,000 in the deficiency bill for the state of Georgia, being the amount due the state under the recent decision in the Trezevant claim case. The amount will be allowed. An appropriation was made in 1883 for this purpose, but Georgia never received the money, it being placed to her credit in the direct tax account. The state of Georgia carried the case to the supreme court, and won it last year. Now an appropriation will be made, and the state will raise a howl.

THE OLD WOMEN MUST GO.

Speaker Reed has issued an order that all the stands around the capitol corridors, used for the sale of any trinkets, eatables or anything else, shall be removed tomorrow. The old women, who keep the stands, are consequently very much worried, and are raising a great howl. However, they will have to go tomorrow.

E. W. B.

A Distillery Burned.

Louisville, Ky., June 30.—The immense plant of the Allen-Bradley Distilling company, at Bowland and Horn streets, was completely burned this morning, entailing a loss of not less than $100,000. There is full insurance. The distillery was formed by the Newcomb-Buchanan company, and Allen-Bradley is the largest interest held by Marshall Allen, of New York, and W. E. Bradford, of Frankfort. They have two other distilleries, at the latter place. By hard work the fire was kept from the bon fire warehouse.

And Lighting in Ohio.

Cincinnati, June 30.—The terrible storm, with lightning and heavy rain, which occurred yesterday, severely injured several persons. Two were killed by lightning, and the killed were: Mrs. Mary E. Johnson, aged seventeen, and Willie Wise, aged twenty-one. Both were severely injured, but will recover. Andrew Flanders, a Miss Messmer are reported to have been killed while riding along the road out four miles in the country.

Homicide Makers Condemned.

Judge Clegg, N. Y., June 30.—Thomas J. Falen, Jacob Aschel, Thomas Durancy and James H. members of the election board in the first district, who have been tried for a bribe, will be sentenced next Monday.

Postoffice Burglars Arrested.

Waycross, Ga., June 30.—[Special.]—United

EXPLOSION AT OIL WORKS.

TWO PERSONS KILLED and Thirty Others Badly Injured.

LOUISVILLE, June 30.—By an explosion at the Standard refinery this morning thirty-five persons were wounded. So far as known nobody was killed outright by the fire or explosion, but four persons were so badly burned they will undoubtedly die. One was a workman who was caught by the rush of flames, and the other three were little boys of twelve and fourteen who were walking along the railroad track and were surrounded by leaves of the flaming gas through which they ran in some instance with their clothes torn.

The loss is estimated at $40,000.

Later John McDonald, and Daniel O'Neil, two of the boys caught in the Standard oil fire, were found dead. Another workman partially recovered. The others burned are better, and will all probably recover. The loss is much less than at first estimated, probably not being over $40,000; no insurance. Seven persons in all were caught by the flames.

DESTROYED BY FIRE.

A Destructive Conflagration in an Alabama Town.

Troy, Ala., June 30.—[Special.] At 12:45 p. m. today, the greatest calamity that has ever taken place in the city. A fire broke out in the hide and junk house, a small wooden building, on the west side of the square. The first alarm was given at 12:30 p. m. The fire was spreading on the west side of the square, W. W. Jones' saloon, Jolly's tin shop, Jackson's hide house, and L. & W. W. Henderson's sale stables. Crossing Jones street the splendid little opera house and the entire block upon which it was situated, was soon a mass of flames. The Troy Ironworks, Ross & Henderson's stables, also across the street, were destroyed. The entire south side of the hill, on the east side of the square, was licked up like tinder by the fury of the flames.

On the south side of Love street, E. G. Chaffing's warehouse, residence and grocery store were engulfed in the general ruin. On the east side of Oak street, Terry's gun shop, two or three small wooden buildings, were burned. It was impossible to tell what was the total damage, and certain it was $100,000 would scarcely cover it, though most of the houses had some insurance.

A STORM IN AUGUSTA?

Nearly Two Inches of Rain in an Hour and a Half.

AUGUSTA, Ga., June 30.—[Special.]—June made its parting bow to Augusta this evening with a genuine storm of wind, rain and hail. The storm was accompanied by a heavy downpour, in torrents, nearly two inches of rain falling registered at the signal service station. The wind blew at the rate of forty-five miles an hour, and the downpour was swirled around in blinding torrents. Large hail stones fell during a portion of the storm, and the thunder and lightning were frequent. No material damage was done, any more than had been done.

A singular phenomenon of the storm was the fact that the sun shone brightly all the while. At times the rain was so blinding that it was difficult to see the distance of ten feet.

The rain was so heavy that sand on the car tracks and the brilliant play of lightning caused the stopping of the electric cars during the continuance of the storm. Swinging signs and limit posts were blown down, and the trees were uprooted. The hot air was cooled off delightfully, and the city was thoroughly washed by the storm.

MILLIONS of Firecrackers.

NEW YORK, June 30.—The ship Great Admiral, which recently came from Hong Kong, has a cargo of 4,000,000 bunches of firecrackers. She was 104 days on passage.

THE SPOTTING WORLD.

Result of Baseball Games Yesterday—The Races.

At Pittsburg—[League]—Pittsburg, 4; base hits, 13; errors, 6. New York, 7; base hits, 11; errors, 4. Batteries—Baker and Decker; Welch and Murphy.

At Pittsburg—[Brotherhood]—Pittsburg, 19; base hits, 17; errors, 5. Boston, 13; base hits, 14; errors, 4. Batteries—Staleys and Fields; Daly and Day.

At Buffalo—[Brotherhood]—Buffalo, 2; base hits, 1; errors, 1. Brooklyn, 4; base hits, 1; errors, 3. Batteries—Hadlock and Mack; Sowder and Daly.

At Cincinnati—[League]—Cincinnati, 6; base hits, 11; errors, 15. Brooklyn, 13; base hits, 8; errors, 4. Batteries—Foreman and Baldwin; Tracy and Daly.

At Toledo—Toledo, 9; base hits, 16; errors, 1. Atchison, 1; errors, 2. Batteries—Tucker and Kelly.

At Cleveland—[Brotherhood]—Cleveland, 14; base hits, 11; errors, 3. Philadelphia, 4; base hits, 8; errors, 4. Batteries—King and Farrell; Sanders and Miligan.

Sheephead Races.

NEW YORK, June 30.—First race, Futurity course, Denison, won, Diabolio, second, Worth third, Time, 1:02-5.

Second race, Future course, Equity won, Verdi second, Iphigenia third. Time 1:33.

Third race, Future course, Adminal second. Time, 2:02-3-5.

Fourth race, one mile, Cassius won, Zebras second, Stoarla third. Time, 2:00-5.

Sixth race, mile and a half, on the turf, Taragon won, St. Luke second, Falcon third. Time, 1:37-5.

Seventh race, mile and a furlong, on the turf, Tatler won, Castel second, Marchmont third. Time, 1:37.

RACES AT CHICAGO.

CHICAGO, June 30.—First race, one mile, Irene won, Pick-up second, Rock third. Time 1:43.

Second race, five furlongs, Hiram won, Minnie second, one mile. Winona third. Time, 1:42-5.

Third race, five furlongs, J. O'Day won, Chimes fourth. Time, 0:59-4.

Fourth race, one mile and three quarters, Hypo won, Ormie second, 1:00-2.

Fifth race, one mile, Rimini won, Milldale second, Manila third. Time, 1:02-5.

Sixth race, one mile, Womble won, Eighty-second, Hawley third. Time, 1:03-5.

Seventh race, mile and a quarter, Hanriet won, Heron second. Browne Duke third. Time, 1:07-5.

MR. TURNER'S SPEECH.

On the democratic side there were many conservative and able speeches, but none more forcible than that of Henry G. Turner, of Georgia, who, in his opinion, was the best speaker of the day.

Convicts in France, several persons were killed by lightning and the killed were: Mrs. Mary E. Johnson, aged seventeen, and Willie Wise, aged twenty-one. Both were severely injured, but will recover. Andrew Flanders, a Miss Messmer are reported to have been killed while riding along the road out four miles in the country.

HOMICIDE MAKERS CONDEMNED.

Judge Clegg, N. Y., June 30.—Thomas J. Falen, Jacob Aschel, Thomas Durancy and James H. members of the election board in the first district, who have been tried for a bribe, will be sentenced next Monday.

POSTOFFICE BURGLARS ARRESTED.

WAYcross, Ga., June 30.—[Special.]—United

ATLANTA, GA., TUESDAY MORNING, JULY 1, 1890.

THE NORTH AROUSED

THE INQUIRIES OF THE ELECTION BILL.

VIGOROUS WORDS ABOUT IT.

A Republican Member Puts Reed Into a Fury by a Proposed Amendment Making the Election General.

WASHINGTON, June 30.—[Special.]—The Standard refinery fire this morning thirty-five persons were wounded. So far as known nobody was killed outright by the fire or explosion, but four persons were so badly burned they will undoubtedly die. One was a workman who was caught by the rush of flames, and the other three were little boys of twelve and fourteen who were walking along the railroad track and were surrounded by leaves of the flaming gas through which they ran in some instance with their clothes torn.

The loss is estimated at $40,000.

Later John McDonald, and Daniel O'Neil, two of the boys caught in the Standard oil fire, were found dead. Another workman partially recovered. The others burned are better, and will all probably recover. The loss is much less than at first estimated, probably not being over $40,000; no insurance. Seven persons in all were caught by the flames.

DESTROYED BY FIRE.

THE STORY OF HIS PRISON LIFE.

A REPUBLICAN MEMBER PUTS REED INTO A FURY BY A PROPOSED AMENDMENT MAKING THE ELECTION GENERAL.

WASHINGTON, June 30.—[Special.]—The Standard refinery fire this morning thirty-five persons were wounded. So far as known nobody was killed outright by the fire or explosion, but four persons were so badly burned they will undoubtedly die. One was a workman who was caught by the rush of flames, and the other three were little boys of twelve and fourteen who were walking along the railroad track and were surrounded by leaves of the flaming gas through which they ran in some instance with their clothes torn.

The loss is estimated at $40,000.

Later John McDonald, and Daniel O'Neil, two of the boys caught in the Standard oil fire, were found dead. Another workman partially recovered. The others burned are better, and will all probably recover. The loss is much less than at first estimated, probably not being over $40,000; no insurance. Seven persons in all were caught by the flames.

DESTROYED BY FIRE.

THE STORY OF HIS PRISON LIFE.

A REPUBLICAN MEMBER PUTS REED INTO A FURY BY A PROPOSED AMENDMENT MAKING THE ELECTION GENERAL.

WASHINGTON, June 30.—[Special.]—The Standard refinery fire this morning thirty-five persons were wounded. So far as known nobody was killed outright by the fire or explosion, but four persons were so badly burned they will undoubtedly die. One was a workman who was caught by the rush of flames, and the other three were little boys of twelve and fourteen who were walking along the railroad track and were surrounded by leaves of the flaming gas through which they ran in some instance with their clothes torn.

The loss is estimated at $40,000.

Later John McDonald, and Daniel O'Neil, two of the boys caught in the Standard oil fire, were found dead. Another workman partially recovered. The others burned are better, and will all probably recover. The loss is much less than at first estimated, probably not being over $40,000; no insurance. Seven persons in all were caught by the flames.

DESTROYED BY FIRE.

THE STORY OF HIS PRISON LIFE.

A REPUBLICAN MEMBER PUTS REED INTO A FURY BY A PROPOSED AMENDMENT MAKING THE ELECTION GENERAL.

WASHINGTON, June 30.—[Special.]—The Standard refinery fire this morning thirty-five persons were wounded. So far as known nobody was killed outright by the fire or explosion, but four persons were so badly burned they will undoubtedly die. One was a workman who was caught by the rush of flames, and the other three were little boys of twelve and fourteen who were walking along the railroad track and were surrounded by leaves of the flaming gas through which they ran in some instance with their clothes torn.

The loss is estimated at $40,000.

Later John McDonald, and Daniel O'Neil, two of the boys caught in the Standard oil fire, were found dead. Another workman partially recovered. The others burned are better, and will all probably recover. The loss is much less than at first estimated, probably not being over $40,000; no insurance. Seven persons in all were caught by the flames.

DESTROYED BY FIRE.

THE STORY OF HIS PRISON LIFE.

A REPUBLICAN MEMBER PUTS REED INTO A FURY BY A PROPOSED AMENDMENT MAKING THE ELECTION

LIVINGSTON-STEWART.

We will meet in joint discussion tonight.

Their First Debate in Atlanta—Great Interest Centering on the Meeting—Today at Jonesboro.

Livingston and Stewart tonight. They will speak in joint discussion at the county courthouse.

Eight o'clock is the hour, and the speaking will be in the basement hall of the courthouse. The issues of the congressional campaign in the fifty congressional district will be fully discussed.

It will be an interesting meeting, no doubt, and the discussion between Colonel Livingston and Mr. Stewart will be lively and exciting.

It will be the greatest meeting of the two candidates in joint discussion, perhaps, of all during the campaign, as much interest is now centering in the race over the stand Fulton county and Atlanta will take.

The speaking will begin promptly at 8 o'clock.

Colonel Livingston is already in Atlanta, and has made every preparation for the meeting.

He will go to Jonesboro this morning in response to an invitation from the alliance to speak.

Mr. Stewart will probably be present also, and if so, he will be invited by Colonel Livingston to take part in the discussion of the issues of the campaign.

If he accepts, and speaks first, as Colonel Livingston says he will invite him to do, Colonel Livingston will have the first go at Atlanta's height.

If Mr. Stewart does not speak at Jonesboro, he will by the routine rule speak first in Atlanta, and Colonel Livingston will close the discussion tonight.

An exciting meeting it will be if signs count for aught.

ANOTHER HANDSOME TESTIMONIAL

Paid to Mr. J. G. Thrower's Wonderful Invention.

Here comes another handsome testimonial to Mr. J. G. Thrower's wonderful "invalid lift."

This is a testimonial showing the full satisfaction which the lift gives under the most trying circumstances—after it has been in constant and active use in one's sick room for some time.

Some time ago THE CONSTITUTION referred at some length to the splendid endorsements which this machine received at the hands of medical men who had investigated its workings and the testimonials of Atlanta people who had used it. The verdict of all was the same—no other lift had ever performed its work well, but that it was the most wonderful as well as the most useful of all the machines of its kind. Indeed, the consciousness of much can compare with this Thrower "lift."

Now comes Mr. Thomas M. Ferguson and adds his endorsement.

Mr. Ferguson is a merchant of Meridian, Miss., and is well known throughout that state.

Mr. Ferguson's mother has been ill for a long time. She is a very large woman, weighing, as he says, 275 pounds, and two years ago she became unable to walk. For this reason two women were in constant attendance upon her.

Mr. Ferguson tells of the great ease with which she now moves about, and how she discusses a lecture to be lost sight of—the economy of this lift. He shows how it is a great thing in this important respect, and his figures will be glad with great interest.

But here is his letter to Mr. Thrower. It explains itself:

MRIDIAN, Miss., June 26, 1890.—Mr. J. G. Thrower's wonderful "invalid lift" has been thoroughly tested, and, in fact, used one of your lifting machines for some time. I feel it my duty as well as pleasure to express my appreciation of this wonderful invention. My mother has been walking for over two years, and as she weighs about 275 pounds, I had to keep two stout women hired to uplift upon her. Since I got the lift, the cost of maintaining two women of any of the first or second year old little girls can handle her with perfect ease to the cook and washroom, and for more than two weeks could a small economy to the family be realized.

Castoria is Dr. Samuel Pitcher's prescription for Infants and Children. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other Narcotic substance. It is a harmless substitute for Paregoric, Drops, Soothing Syrups, and Castor Oil. It is Pleasant. Its guarantee is thirty years' use by Millions of Mothers. Castoria destroys Worms and allays feverishness. Castoria prevents vomiting Sour Curd, cures Diarrhoea and Wind Colic. Castoria relieves teething troubles, cures constipation and flatulence. Castoria assimilates the food, regulates the stomach and bowels, giving healthy and natural sleep. Castoria is the Children's Panacea—the Mother's Friend.

LECTURING IN BIRMINGHAM.

The Rev. Dr. McDonald Goes to Alabama to Address a Body of Ministers.

Rev. Dr. McDonald, pastor of the Second Baptist church, lectured for Birmingham yesterday, and will be several days.

The Baptist Ministers' Institute is in session in Birmingham.

The institute is composed of pastors representing about two hundred churches in Alabama and portions of Georgia and Florida.

A programme of lectures on appropriate subjects has been arranged, and the annual meeting and national reputation has been arranged, and in this course of lectures Dr. McDonald has been assigned to the important subject of "Pastoral Ministry."

He has consented to lecture daily for one week, and the management of the institute is urging him to give it the benefit of a course of two weeks.

The movement is to be highly commended, and the management may be congratulated on securing the wise counsel and instruction of Dr. McDonald.

No pastor can be more fitted to the honored trust with more wisdom, zeal and fidelity than Dr. McDonald, as attested by the abundant success that has attended his ministrations during all his years of pastoral labor.

Wishing you all success. Yours truly,

THOMAS M. FERGUSON.

THE HANVE COMPANY.

The Hanve Company on Edgewood Avenue Ready for Business.

The Hanve Company begins business to day at R. M. Hanve's stand on Edgewood avenue.

The company is incorporated under the laws of the state, and is composed of some of the best business men in the city.

The stockholders met yesterday and organized by electing a board of directors, composed of A. J. Haltiwanger, R. M. Hanve, Little Woodworth, J. C. Shropshire, J. A. McDonald and J. E. Carter.

The board organized by electing:

J. A. Haltiwanger, president.

R. M. Hanve, general manager.

J. C. Shropshire, Jr., secretary and treasurer.

The Hanve Company has one of the prettiest stores in the city, and starts out with most flattering prospects.

The Best Ladies College in America.

Few educational institutions in those offered by National Education have equalled the efficient management of Professor J. H. Hancock.

The original site of the seminary was selected by his founder, Dr. Ward, with a view to healthfulness and convenience. The school has been five years of its history have been marked by a steady growth in numbers and facilities until it has become known as the foremost college for young ladies in the south. Parents can see their daughters enter the Christian home where ladies like manners and a courteous deportment are cultivated as assiduously as the various branches, practical and ornamental, which are essential to a thorough education.

For a "hot weather" medicine Hood's Sarsaparilla is unequalled. It neutralizes the depressing effect of the heat, by giving tone and strength to the whole system, and creating an appetite.

Are free from all crude and irritating matter. Concentrated medicine only. Carter's Little Liver Pills. Very small, very easy to take; no pain, no griping, no purging. Try them.

Children Enjoy

The pleasant flavor, gentle action and soothing effects of Syrup of Figs, when in need of laxative, and if the farther or mother be cosmetic or balsamic the most gratifying results follow its use, so that it is the best family remedy known and every family should have a bottle.

As you like it. Gray and faded whiskers may be changed to their natural and even color—brown or black—by using Bucking-ham's Dye. Try it.

Phillips' DIGESTIBLE COCOA, a delicious art-producing drink which does not distress.

Catarrh may be cured by Pond's Extract; certain to be relieved.

If you feel unable to do your work, and have that tired feeling, take Dr. J. H. McLean's Macrotin's. It will make you bright, active and vigorous.

Hodmet Chautauqua Programmes.

All who desire a programme of the Hodmet Chautauqua for summer, July and August, may obtain one by direct application to Dr. James, general manager Lithia Springs, Georgia, formerly Saït Springs, etc. The programme will be full and varied. It will be a great thing from the opening day until it closes. Send for programme and post yourself on the great attractions at the Chautauqua, for this year.

Another Spread for the E. T. V. & G. Ity. Charles N. Right, assistant general passenger agent of the East Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia Railroad, went to Florida last night, to return this morning with a special train, en route to Chattanooga, conveying Governor Fleming, his staff and a hundred and forty-five members of the Florida Press association, destined to the Hodmet Chautauqua. It is confidently expected that fully three hundred people will be on the train, taking advantage of the "no charge" rate of $1.00 per person.

The train will stop at the points of interest along the line, and when it reaches the Hodmet Chautauqua, it is safe to assume that it will be a popular stop to the East Tennessee depot to recruit the numbers of the train carrying these distinguished people from Florida.

NORMAL SCHOOLS.

A SUCCESSFUL EXPERIMENT IN COBB COUNTY.

A Teachers' Institution in Cobb County Which Seems to Meet One of the Demands of the Day.

MARIETTA, Ga., June 30.—[Special.]—Last September, under the direction of County School Commissioner W. R. Power and Professor J. S. Stewart, Jr., the teachers of the county organized a teachers' association that met at the male academy on the first Saturday in each succeeding month.

The interest manifested in these monthly meetings was so great and the resulting good so evident that Commissioner Power obtained from the school board permission to hold for one week a normal institute, compelling the state school teachers to attend, and paying each his pro rata of the school fund for attendance.

It will be an interesting meeting, no doubt, and the discussion between Colonel Livingston and Mr. Stewart will be lively and exciting.

It will be the greatest meeting of the two candidates in joint discussion, perhaps, of all during the campaign, as much interest is now centering in the race over the stand Fulton county and Atlanta will take.

The speaking will begin promptly at 8 o'clock.

Colonel Livingston is already in Atlanta, and has made every preparation for the meeting.

He will go to Jonesboro this morning in response to an invitation from the alliance to speak.

Mr. Stewart will probably be present also, and if so, he will be invited by Colonel Livingston to take part in the discussion of the issues of the campaign.

If he accepts, and speaks first, as Colonel Livingston says he will invite him to do, Colonel Livingston will have the first go at Atlanta's height.

If Mr. Stewart does not speak at Jonesboro, he will by the routine rule speak first in Atlanta, and Colonel Livingston will close the discussion tonight.

An exciting meeting it will be if signs count for aught.

THE SCHOOL IN SESSION.

This morning at 10, Mr. Power called the institute to order, and there were present fifty-three of the sixty-five teachers in the county. After a few appropriate welcome remarks by Mr. Power, Superintendent L. B. Evans, of Augusta, who was asked by Mr. Power to take charge of the institute, mapped out the work for the week. He then gave an excellent address on the "Teacher and His Preparation for His Work."

He was followed by Professor J. S. Stewart, Jr., in a charming lecture on the "Analysis of the Atmosphere," with numerous experiments intended to show how the teacher, with the simplest apparatus, may awaken thought and interest in his pupils.

CLASS MEETING IN ARITHMETIC.

This afternoon Superintendent Evans and Miss Pearce held a class meeting on arithmetic, in which methods of teaching different parts of arithmetic are shown to the teachers. Tomorrow the programme will be:

"Reading," by Superintendent L. B. Evans. "The First Day at School," by Professor J. C. Harris.

"Chemistry of Combustion," by Professor J. S. Stewart, Jr.

"Grammar," by Professor L. W. Mizell.

"Drawing," by Professor F. M. Dillman.

"Primary Arithmetic," by Miss Pauline Pearce.

Class work in the afternoon, and in the evening a lecture on "Education," by Superintendent Evans.

THE INSTITUTE A SUCCESS.

Judging from the interest manifested today the institute is a success, and we believe that Commissioner Power has solved the normal institute question. Not one institute at Salt Springs out of reach of the teachers sought to be benefited, but an institute in every county taught by local and foreign help, the teachers paid for the time they attend, and not allowed to teach in the county without a certificate of membership. Cobb county appreciates the step made by the commissioner, and calls on the state department to fall into line and distribute the Peabody fund among the counties.

Mr. Ferguson tells of the great ease with which she now moves about, and how she discusses a lecture to be lost sight of—the economy of this lift. He shows how it is a great thing in this important respect, and his figures will be glad with great interest.

But here is his letter to Mr. Thrower. It explains itself:

MRIDIAN, Miss., June 26, 1890.—Mr. J. G. Thrower's wonderful "invalid lift."

This is a testimonial showing the full satisfaction which the lift gives under the most trying circumstances—after it has been in constant and active use in one's sick room for some time.

Some time ago THE CONSTITUTION referred at some length to the splendid endorsements which this machine received at the hands of medical men who had investigated its workings and the testimonials of Atlanta people who had used it. The verdict of all was the same—no other lift had ever performed its work well, but that it was the most wonderful as well as the most useful of all the machines of its kind. Indeed, the consciousness of much can compare with this Thrower "lift."

Now comes Mr. Thomas M. Ferguson and adds his endorsement.

Mr. Ferguson is a merchant of Meridian, Miss., and is well known throughout that state.

Mr. Ferguson's mother has been ill for a long time. She is a very large woman, weighing, as he says, 275 pounds, and two years ago she became unable to walk. For this reason two women were in constant attendance upon her.

Mr. Ferguson tells of the great ease with which she now moves about, and how she discusses a lecture to be lost sight of—the economy of this lift. He shows how it is a great thing in this important respect, and his figures will be glad with great interest.

But here is his letter to Mr. Thrower. It explains itself:

MRIDIAN, Miss., June 26, 1890.—Mr. J. G. Thrower's wonderful "invalid lift."

This is a testimonial showing the full satisfaction which the lift gives under the most trying circumstances—after it has been in constant and active use in one's sick room for some time.

Some time ago THE CONSTITUTION referred at some length to the splendid endorsements which this machine received at the hands of medical men who had investigated its workings and the testimonials of Atlanta people who had used it. The verdict of all was the same—no other lift had ever performed its work well, but that it was the most wonderful as well as the most useful of all the machines of its kind. Indeed, the consciousness of much can compare with this Thrower "lift."

Now comes Mr. Thomas M. Ferguson and adds his endorsement.

Mr. Ferguson is a merchant of Meridian, Miss., and is well known throughout that state.

Mr. Ferguson's mother has been ill for a long time. She is a very large woman, weighing, as he says, 275 pounds, and two years ago she became unable to walk. For this reason two women were in constant attendance upon her.

Mr. Ferguson tells of the great ease with which she now moves about, and how she discusses a lecture to be lost sight of—the economy of this lift. He shows how it is a great thing in this important respect, and his figures will be glad with great interest.

But here is his letter to Mr. Thrower. It explains itself:

MRIDIAN, Miss., June 26, 1890.—Mr. J. G. Thrower's wonderful "invalid lift."

This is a testimonial showing the full satisfaction which the lift gives under the most trying circumstances—after it has been in constant and active use in one's sick room for some time.

Some time ago THE CONSTITUTION referred at some length to the splendid endorsements which this machine received at the hands of medical men who had investigated its workings and the testimonials of Atlanta people who had used it. The verdict of all was the same—no other lift had ever performed its work well, but that it was the most wonderful as well as the most useful of all the machines of its kind. Indeed, the consciousness of much can compare with this Thrower "lift."

Now comes Mr. Thomas M. Ferguson and adds his endorsement.

Mr. Ferguson is a merchant of Meridian, Miss., and is well known throughout that state.

Mr. Ferguson's mother has been ill for a long time. She is a very large woman, weighing, as he says, 275 pounds, and two years ago she became unable to walk. For this reason two women were in constant attendance upon her.

Mr. Ferguson tells of the great ease with which she now moves about, and how she discusses a lecture to be lost sight of—the economy of this lift. He shows how it is a great thing in this important respect, and his figures will be glad with great interest.

But here is his letter to Mr. Thrower. It explains itself:

MRIDIAN, Miss., June 26, 1890.—Mr. J. G. Thrower's wonderful "invalid lift

THE CONSTITUTION.

PUBLISHED DAILY, SUNDAY AND WEEKLY
The Daily (including Sunday) $10.00
The Sunday (20 or 24 Pages) 10.00
The Weekly (12 Pages) 1.00
All Editions Sent Postpaid.

VOLUNTEER contributions for which compensation is desired must be marked with the price expected.
Keep copies of articles. We do not undertake to return rejected MSS.

THE DAILY CONSTITUTION, INCLUDING THE SUNDAY EDITION,
will be delivered to any address in the city at TWENTY CENTS PER WEEK.
Subscribe at once.

THE SUNDAY CONSTITUTION
$2 A YEAR.
SENT TO ANY ADDRESS.

ATLANTA, GA., JULY 1, 1890.

It Will Be Governor Northen.

About two months ago, before the gubernatorial campaign fairly opened in earnest, THE CONSTITUTION tested the sentiment of the voters of the state in a manner which our readers will remember.

The result of THE CONSTITUTION's poll showed that Hon. W. J. Northen was overwhelmingly the favorite of the people at that time.

In commenting on this evidence of his popularity, THE CONSTITUTION took occasion to say that Georgia had nothing to fear in the prospect that Colonel Northen would be the successor of Governor Gordon. More than that, we stated that the strength he had developed gave every indication that his candidacy would result successfully.

His strength has been constantly augmenting, and there seems to be little or no doubt that Hon. W. J. Northen, of Hancock, will be Georgia's next governor.

Colonel Tom Hardeman, glorious democratic knight that he is, yielding to the importunities of enthusiastic friends, allowed his name to be used at a time, when the question of gubernatorial succession had been virtually settled. In consenting to make the race, Colonel Hardeman entered the field against an opponent whose admiral record, whose well known integrity, whose indefatigable energy, and whose long candidacy had organized his campaign in every section of the state. His friends were at work, and had been for a year. To the day of Colonel Hardeman's announcement it appeared that Colonel Northen would hold the field to himself, and to have broken the lines that he had succeeded in establishing, in the short time left him to make the fight, would have been for Colonel Hardeman to successfully lead the most brilliant campaign in the annals of history. It was too much to expect of him, even had he been in perfect health.

When Colonel Hardeman announced he had every chance against him, and even many of his closest friends were tied in their assurances of support to Colonel Northen, it having been generally conceded that Colonel Hardeman would not be in the race.

The tide that has turned to Northen cannot be stayed. It has swept the state, and the fact that county after county, "in unbroken succession, deems for him" demonstrates the earnestness and the strength of his support in every section of the state.

THE CONSTITUTION can say no more of Colonel Northen than it has already said. He is an upright, pure man, who will grace the executive chair of the state and prove a worthy successor to the distinguished line of governors of whom Georgia feels justly proud.

An Impossibility.

Northern ignorance of southern affairs is a condition old enough to be bald-headed, if one may so speak, but it still continues to be as curious as it is amusing. The oftener it manifests itself the more wonderful it becomes.

We observe in The New York Mail and Express that the "regular" democracy in the state of South Carolina is "pretty badly scared," and that what scares it is the Farmers' alliance. We learn further from Editor Shepard's queer paper that "a man named Benjamin R. Tillman has been nominated by the Farmers' alliance for governor, and he is stamping the state."

Of course any editor, even as poor and as sneaky as is Shepard, ought to know that Mr. Tillman has not been nominated for governor by the Farmers' alliance, and would know, also, that other most important fact of all—that Mr. Tillman is a candidate for the democratic nomination and is pledged to abide the action of the convention.

Mr. Tillman is making a canvass now—and a very notable one it is—not to secure votes, but to secure the support of the democratic delegates who are to represent the party in the convention. The republican idea that the contest between democrats in South Carolina for the democratic nomination means the breaking-up of the democratic party is almost too absurd to be commented on seriously. It seems to us that any sensible republican editor ought to understand that the division of the democratic party in any state of the south at this time is an impossibility.

Where Economy Reigns.

We know nothing of economy in this country. One should visit Paris to see how little people can live on, and how they save money. The owner of twenty-six restaurants in that city feeds 20,000 people a day, and yet all that is left over from his tables would not fill more than one wagon. Even this, however, is sold again to the poor, and every scrap is eaten. Nothing is wasted. Even the lame horses are killed and eaten. The ordinary French stove is about the size of an ice tank in a Pullman car. Two quarts of coal fill it, and after the fire is started the concern is whirled around the house to warm it. The same stove is used to warm the house and do the cooking with. The coal used by an American in one winter would warm a whole street in Paris.

Food is high in Paris, but it does not cost the people much, because they eat it and waste nothing. If our American families exercised the same economy the difference in the price of food would enable them to live on almost nothing.

Sometime ago the saving methods of the French country people were described in these columns. These additional facts show that their city people are not behind the others in the matter of cheap living. But does it profit them in the long run? They think so. It has enabled them to pay their war debt to Germany, to sink hundreds of millions in the Panama canal, to buy finery and enjoy life in their own fashion. Perhaps this way of living would not suit Americans in cities and towns, but as a practical study in economy it deserves our attention. We can hardly fail to learn more than one useful lesson from it.

A Bad Blunder.

The editor of The Voice, national prohibition organ, is in trouble. Some of his esteemed contemporaries are jumping on him with both feet, and it may be said that he is fighting a score of them single-handed.

In the recent issue of The Voice the following paragraph appeared: "The charge has frequently been made that we think more of our prohibition party than we do of admittance. For our part we are ready to admit the charge fully and unequivocally."

This is the matter which has caused a May-morning bluster among The Voice's esteemed contemporaries, and in the trial for these sentiments the evidence is certainly against it. It is a strange and curious admission for the editor of a prohibition paper to make, and no matter how you view it, it has an ugly look.

The cause of prohibition, as a cause advocated by wise, earnest and thoughtful men, who believe that they are fighting a good fight, should command the respect, if it does not gain the support, of people everywhere; but this kind of talk—that prohibitionists think more of their party, as a political party, than they do of the great principle for which they are supposed to be fighting—the principle of prohibition—is not calculated to do the cause any good. Indeed, it is a bad blow to prohibition, which has been wounded in the house of its friends.

The Voice has made a blunder, and a most unfortunate one at that. The editor should make haste to explain his explanation.

Cobb County Normal Institute.

This normal institute, spoken of elsewhere in today's paper, seems to be a move in the right direction.

Georgia, with eighty per cent of her teachers with no more than grammar school education, needs normal schools.

The paid county normal meets the demand. They have been, and are now, run in New York, Massachusetts, Connecticut, Illinois, Iowa, Florida, and a number of other states, with signal success. The expenses for the whole state will not exceed $10,000.

Let other counties follow the example of Cobb, and next year the commissioner of education would do well to consider the plan of securing a number of teachers to go into the different counties and hold institutes, calling in the ablest local teachers to assist.

Concerning Sunstroke.

The mortality from sunstroke in the northern cities is very large every summer, but in the southern states it is remarkably light.

Still, in our favored region, a few persons are killed by the heat of the sun, while others are prostrated. It will, therefore, do some good to present a few hygienic hints on the subject.

According to Dr. Edwin Mann, of New York, our exercise in hot weather should be very moderate, the clothing should be loose and thin, and we should drink plenty of cold water. As soon as a person in the open air ceases to perspire he is in danger of sunstroke, and should immediately drink large quantities of water, and bring on a perspiration that will keep the skin and garments wet. Frequently impending sun collapse may be warded off by these measures.

When there is a marked exhaustion and a weak pulse a stimulant should be administered. But the free use of water, internally and externally, is the best safeguard. A straw hat worn with green leaves or a wet sponge in the top is also of great benefit.

These hints will be of little avail if a man goes to excess in eating and drinking. Fat meats and liquors must be avoided, and the diet should consist principally of vegetables.

By following this line of conduct a man will be able to work in the open air, and suffer less from heat than many who stay in shade and act imprudently in the matter of diet.

The fact that this is not a sunstroke section will not make it safe for us to altogether ignore these simple and reasonable rules for the season. It is a shocking thing for a man to drop dead too freely, or exposed himself too recklessly.

With Wanamaker selling stolen books, Harrison accepting cottages at Cape May, and Quay refusing to meet the charge of embezzlement, the administration seems to be more truly republican than people had expected.

Mr. Tillman is making a canvass now—and a very notable one it is—not to secure votes, but to secure the support of the democratic delegates who are to represent the party in the convention. The republican idea that the contest between democrats in South Carolina for the democratic nomination means the breaking-up of the democratic party is almost too absurd to be commented on seriously. It seems to us that any sensible republican editor ought to understand that the division of the democratic party in any state of the south at this time is an impossibility.

Where Economy Reigns.

Northern ignorance of southern affairs is a condition old enough to be bald-headed, if one may so speak, but it still continues to be as curious as it is amusing. The oftener it manifests itself the more wonderful it becomes.

We observe in The New York Mail and Express that the "regular" democracy in the state of South Carolina is "pretty badly scared," and that what scares it is the Farmers' alliance. We learn further from Editor Shepard's queer paper that "a man named Benjamin R. Tillman has been nominated by the Farmers' alliance for governor, and he is stamping the state."

Of course any editor, even as poor and as sneaky as is Shepard, ought to know that Mr. Tillman has not been nominated for governor by the Farmers' alliance, and would know, also, that other most important fact of all—that Mr. Tillman is a candidate for the democratic nomination and is pledged to abide the action of the convention.

Mr. Tillman is making a canvass now—and a very notable one it is—not to secure votes, but to secure the support of the democratic delegates who are to represent the party in the convention. The republican idea that the contest between democrats in South Carolina for the democratic nomination means the breaking-up of the democratic party is almost too absurd to be commented on seriously. It seems to us that any sensible republican editor ought to understand that the division of the democratic party in any state of the south at this time is an impossibility.

Where Economy Reigns.

We know nothing of economy in this country.

One should visit Paris to see how little people can live on, and how they save money. The owner of twenty-six restaurants in that city feeds 20,000 people a day, and yet all that is left over from his tables would not fill more than one wagon. Even this, however, is sold again to the poor, and every scrap is eaten. Nothing is wasted. Even the lame horses are killed and eaten. The ordinary French stove is about the size of an ice tank in a Pullman car. Two quarts of coal fill it, and after the fire is started the concern is whirled around the house to warm it. The same stove is used to warm the house and do the cooking with. The coal used by an American in one winter would warm a whole street in Paris.

Food is high in Paris, but it does not cost the people much, because they eat it and waste nothing. If our American families exercised the same economy the difference in the price of food would enable them to live on almost nothing.

Sometime ago the saving methods of the French country people were described in these columns. These additional facts show that their city people are not behind the others in the matter of cheap living. But does it profit them in the long run? They think so. It has enabled them to pay their war debt to Germany, to sink hundreds of millions in the Panama canal, to buy finery and enjoy life in their own fashion. Perhaps this way of living would not suit Americans in cities and towns, but as a practical study in economy it deserves our attention. We can hardly fail to learn more than one useful lesson from it.

The writing talent of the southern ladies in Washington is attracting the attention of northern newspaper correspondents. The same thing has been remarked and commented on in New York. The gift of easy and graphic expression appears to belong to the southern people.

GLIMPSES OF GEORGIA LIFE.

His esteemed contemporaries are commenting on the fact that Editor Haulon has discontinued the watermelon premium for cash subscriptions. When they get to be farmers themselves they will understand it.

Talking about "country poetry," we always get the very best from that source, and the following verses, which appeared in last week's issue of the Fort Valley Leader, are as tender and touching as anything this writer has ever read:

By the desk where I am sitting,
While the midnight hours are drifting,
There stands a little chair,
Which reminds me of a being,
Which my fancy ever seeing,
Should be there.

Her young words were but tattle,
While her infant prattle,
Which affection doth adore;
But the little chair is empty,
And its vacancy will tempt me,
Evermore.

And every coming morrow,
With its weight of care and sorrow,
Like the day that went before,
Will bring my spirit nearer
To the place where I shall hear her,
Evermore.

A Georgia editor says that the man who is always informing you that you have missed an item in some of the newspapers is as frequent as the chills in the low country, and just about as popular.

Our Georgia exchanges will be few and far between next week. The Fourth of July comes at Fort Valley this year, and will be celebrated for a week afterwards.

In July a full foaming comes upon the lager's crest;

In July the young store clerk gets himself another vest;

In July a winter's come upon the lemons; and in July the editor's fancy lightly turns to fish and shade.

The Eastman Times-Journal goes tripping along like a grasshopper with the whole summer before him. Editor Folsom—not the poet Folsom—is a good man at the business and knows how to make a country newspaper hum.

Editor Ward—not that he loves Macon less, but Atlanta more—is in the city yesterday talking politics and perspiring freely.

Editor Gunn announces that his birthday is at hand, and that he needs a good suit of clothes. Some one ought to send him a yellow umbrella and a box of paper clerks.

Editor Folsom—not the poet Folsom—is a good man at the business and knows how to make a country newspaper hum.

Editor Ward—not that he loves Macon less, but Atlanta more—is in the city yesterday talking politics and perspiring freely.

Editor Gunn announces that his birthday is at hand, and that he needs a good suit of clothes. Some one ought to send him a yellow umbrella and a box of paper clerks.

Editor Folsom—not the poet Folsom—is a good man at the business and knows how to make a country newspaper hum.

Editor Ward—not that he loves Macon less, but Atlanta more—is in the city yesterday talking politics and perspiring freely.

Editor Gunn announces that his birthday is at hand, and that he needs a good suit of clothes. Some one ought to send him a yellow umbrella and a box of paper clerks.

Editor Folsom—not the poet Folsom—is a good man at the business and knows how to make a country newspaper hum.

Editor Ward—not that he loves Macon less, but Atlanta more—is in the city yesterday talking politics and perspiring freely.

Editor Gunn announces that his birthday is at hand, and that he needs a good suit of clothes. Some one ought to send him a yellow umbrella and a box of paper clerks.

Editor Folsom—not the poet Folsom—is a good man at the business and knows how to make a country newspaper hum.

Editor Ward—not that he loves Macon less, but Atlanta more—is in the city yesterday talking politics and perspiring freely.

Editor Gunn announces that his birthday is at hand, and that he needs a good suit of clothes. Some one ought to send him a yellow umbrella and a box of paper clerks.

Editor Folsom—not the poet Folsom—is a good man at the business and knows how to make a country newspaper hum.

Editor Ward—not that he loves Macon less, but Atlanta more—is in the city yesterday talking politics and perspiring freely.

Editor Gunn announces that his birthday is at hand, and that he needs a good suit of clothes. Some one ought to send him a yellow umbrella and a box of paper clerks.

Editor Folsom—not the poet Folsom—is a good man at the business and knows how to make a country newspaper hum.

Editor Ward—not that he loves Macon less, but Atlanta more—is in the city yesterday talking politics and perspiring freely.

Editor Gunn announces that his birthday is at hand, and that he needs a good suit of clothes. Some one ought to send him a yellow umbrella and a box of paper clerks.

Editor Folsom—not the poet Folsom—is a good man at the business and knows how to make a country newspaper hum.

Editor Ward—not that he loves Macon less, but Atlanta more—is in the city yesterday talking politics and perspiring freely.

Editor Gunn announces that his birthday is at hand, and that he needs a good suit of clothes. Some one ought to send him a yellow umbrella and a box of paper clerks.

Editor Folsom—not the poet Folsom—is a good man at the business and knows how to make a country newspaper hum.

Editor Ward—not that he loves Macon less, but Atlanta more—is in the city yesterday talking politics and perspiring freely.

Editor Gunn announces that his birthday is at hand, and that he needs a good suit of clothes. Some one ought to send him a yellow umbrella and a box of paper clerks.

Editor Folsom—not the poet Folsom—is a good man at the business and knows how to make a country newspaper hum.

Editor Ward—not that he loves Macon less, but Atlanta more—is in the city yesterday talking politics and perspiring freely.

Editor Gunn announces that his birthday is at hand, and that he needs a good suit of clothes. Some one ought to send him a yellow umbrella and a box of paper clerks.

Editor Folsom—not the poet Folsom—is a good man at the business and knows how to make a country newspaper hum.

CIRCLE

FULTON COUNTY

RAILROAD

Around the Circle
glade and Edge-shed Quickly.now.
Montgomery, Edge-place on the railway line, can be clock in the morn-and popular superintendent street railway, for a fifteen minute circle." The cars Marlboro and Broad streets. This is a right one, and one that the people just at this time that the cars
for the "big meeting at 6 o'clock.
representative
Nelson in regard towill go at 6 o'clock. After noon, I am concerned Atlanta's want the nine miles been running a
the afternoon and is so great we are whole all the time.
sacrifices to ac-
are determined to the very best possible. I think the line will be con-circle these beauti-with a dollar to the
on and needs rest.
It beats going off to a ride any time, Copenhagen. Once do an attractive placewill go into effect, the public every ac-
think the people have been giving anything to improve ideal one. All cars lock in the morning.
peculiar that willThis will not go run direct to our Leon. This car is of the people
ings early in the desire to take an
it will go round the 10 o'clock at night, will run cars out
do. Leon springs
So, you see, this of your road, Mr.

our cars are in first that could be de-time. Our men are ill spare no pains
agers."new arrangement
the people, and will Hundreds will take ride today and run

TEBOOK.

Morning Judge Mar-
Rockbridge Alum spend the next fiveA Field set to the great "Ivanhoe" in the Agnes Court, Ga. Althoughsites in leaving the loss of her friends go work.

Storm, residing 63
He has been com-
and has not been a week. His friends and nothing ap-
call from one towho has been so was outdriving.
actor was looking days will be to

Rutland company
South Carolina yes-heat and ventilat-erry with the Rut-

mug mill, at Ma-

public outcry, at the property is sold un-y of creditors of the

ands of Mr. Whit-

The stonemasons
Miss A. C. Glenn this will be discussed,

offers evict A

President; Mr. E. C.

Georgia Webster,

requested to send

amount of fees

he can make out

ed, and a splendid

Roses, a butcher

the old exposi-

broken below the driving the pa-

to Main Street

against the corner of broken, but the

Dixon rendered

buddies at No. 4 en-

years ago he left after the inci-

the meeting.

The meeting

were sent to the

ants of Mr. Robe-

one negroes have not, that has been

not a summer and fall the young people, who now evening. Now

not only to white

voted.

Atlanta Wyo-

nepic, is rearing

military con-

information about

The latest comes

the Sixth

anks family of state drill.

As Crawford, of elusive collector,

he seventh divi-

The appoint-

of gentlemen,

astute, foreman

ly, G. K. Ken-

Wednesday night

set to be gone for enjoying the

and other

Lebette, the girl

and who was

has gone to

He has en-gets again.

ment.

[Special]—

Colossal

ring to have

THE JOINT CANVASS

DECLARED OFF

BY THE CANDIDATES' COMMITTEES.

Col. Hardeman's In Health Prevents His Entering It.

HE IS A VERY SICK MAN.

Details of the Conference--Meeting of the Northern Club.There will be no joint gubernatorial canvass.
So it is decreed by the Northern and Hardeman committees that met yesterday.Colonel Hardeman's ill health prevents him for the work of a joint campaign.

And Mr. Northern will play a lone hand.

He will speak to the people of Georgia at such places as he may arrange, and will not have Colonel Hardeman on the stump with him.The committee on both sides got themselves together yesterday and fixed things so far as their part of the campaign is concerned.The meeting took place in room No. 115 of the Kimball house, and was a full meeting of both committees, the following gentlemen being present: Messrs. William L. Peck, F.
L. Little and G. M. Traylor for Hon. W. J.
Northern, and Messrs. Dan G. Hughes, Washington Dewart and George C. Price for Colonel Thomas Hardeman.When the object of the meeting was stated as being an endeavor to arrange dates and regulations for a joint discussion of the issues of the gubernatorial race between Mr. Northern and Colonel Hardeman, the committees entered at once upon the transactions before them.

They Voted to Work for Northern.

BRENTWICK, Ga., June 20.—[Special]—The latest reports from Bartow county state to the effect that the two unknowns in the gubernatorial convention, will send delegates to the Democratic executive committee of this county meets tomorrow. If a primary is ordered, Glynn is safe for Northern; otherwise it is still uncertain what the Northern delegates will be sent to the convention.

They Voted to Work for Northern.

HAZELTONVILLE, Ga., June 20.—[Special]—The latest returns of the primary election held in Hazletonville, Ga., show that Northern received 607, Hinnant 11 and Nesbit 53. The other state house officers received almost the full vote as there was very little scratching.

THE WEATHER.

WASHINGTON, June 20.—Indication for tomorrow: FAIR, except showers on the coast, continued high temperature, variable winds.

SIGNAL SERVICE, U. S. A.

ATLANTA, Ga., June 20.
All observations taken at the same moment of actual time at each place.

Observation taken at p.m. 7th meridian time.

STATIONS. | LOCAL TIME. | DIFF. FROM
ATLANTA. | WIND. | RAINFALL. | WEATHER.

Meridian.... 29 32 50 N 78 W. 6 .00 PTClydy

Pensacola.... 29 32 50 N 80 W. 10 .00 PTClydy

Mobile..... 29 32 52 N 82 W. 6 .25 Rainning

Montgomery.... 30 08 00 N 85 W. 6 Light

Oxford..... 30 08 00 N 85 W. 6 PTdry

Galveston.... 29 30 52 N 71 S. 8 .00 PTClydy

Palestine.... 29 30 52 N 71 S. 8 Light

Brownsville.... 29 30 52 N 70 W. 14 .00 Cloudless

Brownsville.... 29 30 52 N 70 W. 14 .00 Cloudless

Rio Grande City.... * * *

LOCAL OBSERVATIONS.

(Local Time) | TIME OF OBSER-VATION.

7 a.m.... 29 30 50 N 78 W. 6 .00 Cloudless

7 p.m.... 29 30 50 N 78 W. 8 .00 Cloudless

Maximum Thermometer..... 98

Minimum Thermometer..... 71

71 Rainfall.

THE COMMITTEE'S ANNOUNCEMENT.

ATLANTA, Ga., June 20, 1890.—The undersigned,
a committee of arrangements selected by Hon.
William J. Northern and Hon. Thomas Hardeman, to represent the two unknowns in the gubernatorial canvass, have been informed by their agents that their names are growing out of their candidations for the office of governor of this state, having this day met at the time and place agreed upon, and having no further to do with the canvass, to the end that evidences that Colonel Hardeman's physical condition is such as forbids his entering into such joint debate, hereby declare the proposed joint debate.We further agree that Colonel Northern is at liberty to address the people of Georgia at such times and places as he may choose.W. L. PECK, F. L. LITTLE,
G. M. TRAYLER,
H. H. CARRINER,
DAN G. HUGHES,
GEORGE C. PRICE.

For Colonel Thomas Hardeman.

The Telegram Wasn't Received.

There had been much concern felt about the meeting of the committees, due to the doubtful manner of communication between the two sides.After agreeing to a postponement of the meeting the Northern men wired, asking that the meeting be held yesterday morning, but never received an answer from the Hardeman club.For this reason many of the friends of Mr.
Northern began to fear that the meeting had been postponed for some reason indefinitely postponed.But the trouble seems to have been that the two unknowns were not to be found.The gentlemen representing Colonel Hardeman said yesterday that they intended all the while to be present at the meeting, and the other day, through a natural one, did them much injustice.The Northern Club held another warm meeting yesterday.The only business before the club was the report of the grand state central committee, but, owing to certain disadvantages, Mr. Fulton Colville asked for more time for the presentation of the report.The remaining time was devoted to speaking in which several participated.Speeches were made by Major M. C. Kiser, Dr. Roach, Colonel West, Mr. Whidby, Rev.
Mr. Schell, Mr. Starnes, Judge Little and others.All of the speeches were enthusiastic and abounding in good advice to map the policy of the club.

The Committee's Address.

In the afternoon, the state central committee, through Mr. Fulton Colville, reported the following address to the people of Georgia:To the People of the Different Counties of the State:The supporters in Fulton county of Hon. W. J.
Northern, for governor of Georgia, have organized the Northern Club, and are active in the canvass in his interest, and we confidently expect to carry.We were appointed by this club, and at the word of Mr. Northern himself, to communicate with the people, and for the purpose of urging them to unite in an active campaign in his interest, and inform them of their work and their desires.As Colonel Hardeman was unable to speak at the meeting, we did not dare to do so, but Northern will now address the counties desiring to hear him.We present most of the time from home, he will greatly appreciate his supporters communicating
any information to us. We believe that Mr.
Northern is the choice of the people of Georgia for governor, and that his friends and supporters
will unite in an active campaign in his interest,
and thus nominate him at the next democratic convention in this state. We hope every county in which a primary has not been already held or organized will do its best to support him.The present most of the time from home, he will greatly appreciate his supporters communicating
any information to us. We believe that Mr.
Northern is the choice of the people of Georgia for governor, and that his friends and supporters
will unite in an active campaign in his interest,
and thus nominate him at the next democratic convention in this state. We hope every county in which a primary has not been already held or organized will do its best to support him.The Friends of Mrs. J. C. McMillan will be pained to learn that she is very ill, at her home on Jackson street.DANIEL T. PENDERGRASS, furniture, wall paper writer shades, 43 Marietta street. Telephone 77-DELKIN & GRIFFIN, real estate and renting agents, 4-E. Alabama st.SENATOR ED. M. HAMMOND, formerly of Atlanta, now of Orlando, Fla., passed through Atlanta yesterday to Virginia, where he goes to attend the commencement of the university at Virginia. He is to remain there a few days.The remaining time was devoted to speaking in which several participated.Speeches were made by Major M. C. Kiser, Dr. Roach, Colonel West, Mr. Whidby, Rev.
Mr. Schell, Mr. Starnes, Judge Little and others.All of the speeches were enthusiastic and abounding in good advice to map the policy of the club.

Very respectfully, FULTON COLVILLE.

FRANK P. RICE,
H. H. CARRINER,
W. P. HILL.

Mr. Northern's Former Pupils.

ATLANTA, Ga., June 20, 1890.—To the former pupils of Hon. W. J. Northern, candidate for governor of Georgia:
Remembering the red hills of Zion, the old school house at Marion, with feelings of love and affection, and pride in our former teacher Hon. W. J. Northern, is now a candidate for the democratic nomination for governor of this eminently beautiful state. We trust you will support him in his efforts to be elected.The drive yet kind discipline which required obedience and inspired respect, his management on the part of honor which implanted many feelings and love, and the pure and sincere efforts to endear those

FINANCE AND COMMERCE BONDS, STOCKS AND MONEY.

CONSTITUTION OFFICE,
ATLANTA, June 30, 1890.
New York exchange buying at par and selling at 5% premium.

STATE AND CITY BONDS	BID.	ASKED.
New Georgia 4½% 30 year	115½	120
Georgia 5½% 30 year	115½	101½
Georgia 5½% 1866	102	—
Swansea 5%	105	107
Atlanta 5½% 1866	106	—
Atlanta 5½% 1866	106	—
Atlanta 7½% 1866	122	—
Atlanta 7½, 1890	115	—
Atlanta, short date	102	—
Atlanta 5%, long date	105½	107
Atlanta 4½%	100	—
Atlanta, long date	115	115½
Algon 6%	101	—
Columbus 5%	101	—
Bonds graded	105	108
Watervorks 6%	100	—
Moneville 5%	98	93

ATLANTA BANK STOCKS.

Atlanta National	300
Atlanta Banking Company	128
Germania Loan and Banking Co.	128
Bank of the State of Georgia	159
City Gate National	149
Capital City	149
Lowell Banking Co.	149
Merch. & Mechanics B'g & L'n	96
Atlanta Trust and Banking Co.	123
Traders' Bank	100
RAILROAD STOCKS	—
Georgia 6, 1890	107½
Georgia 6, 1910	115
Georgia 6, 1922	116
Central 7½, 1893	104
Georgia 6, 1893	104
Atlanta and Charlotte 1st	120
Atlanta and Charlotte, income	100
Western of Atlanta 2d	101
Georgia and Florida	100
Georgia Pacific, 1st	112
Georgia Pacific, 2d	113½
Georgia Pacific, 2d	78
Georgia Pacific, 2d	80
Mobile, June 20—Cotton	103
American and Upson 1st	78
Atlanta and North Georgia	105
Fay., Americus and Mont. 1st	98
Home and Carrollton	101
RAILROAD STOCKS	—
Georgia 6, 1890	200
Atlanta and Charlotte	88
Southwestern	130
Central	121
Central de Ferrocarril	149
Atlanta and Savannah	145
Atlanta and West Point	111
Atlanta and West Point, debutante	101

THE STOCK MARKET.

The Day on the Floor of the New York Stock Exchange.

NEW YORK, June 30.—Everybody expects this week, owing to the fact that it is now time to hold, and that the present rates of dishonored bills will be more steady, there will be a dull and uninteresting tone, and today did much to verify the expectation.

Although there is a general feeling that there will be a material improvement in both prices and business after the holidays, there is no disposition as yet to buy on favorable prospects, and the tightness with which stocks are held offers no inducement to buyers to make any purchases.

Today's market was very quiet, presented the usual firm front, when left to itself, and showed a strong feeling when in contact with the coal stocks.

Improvement in the outlook for the coal stocks infused a little life into coal stocks, and the state of affairs in the southwest made Atchison a leader, though its movements were confined to the small-scale.

Miss Park.—The market attracted a little more attention, and the feeling was greatly unsettled. August and September deliveries changed hands at 85¢, decline, but again rallied and again closed steady.

Lard.—Trading was fairly active. Prices ruled 25¢ lower, and the market closed steady.

Prices decline 21½¢, and the market closed steady. The following was the range in the leading futures in Chicago today:

Wheat.—Opening: Highest: Closing: June 28, 80 80 80 85
Corn—
July 15 34½ 34½ 34½ 34½
Oats—
July 15 28 28 27½ 27½
Pork—
July 12 30 12 50 12 50
September 12 35 12 35 12 25
Lard—
July 15 5 62½ 5 62½ 5 65
September 5 90 5 92½ 5 90
Sides—
July 15 4 90 4 92½ 4 92½
September 5 10 5 15 5 15

NEW YORK, June 30.—The petroleum market opened firm at 86 for spot and 86½ for July and moved up to 87 and 88½ on covering by shorts. Then the market declined 1½¢, but rallied again and closed steady.

Exchange quiet and weaker at 485½@485¾. Money close at 34½@34¾.

Gold treasury balances: Coin $162,440,000; currency, $6,800,000.

Governments dull but steady: 4½@42½; 4½@40.

Stocks dull but steady: 4½@42½; 4½@40.

THEY WIRE US!

After July 1st, at 11 o'clock every morning a direct wire from Washington will bring us the correct Observatory Time. Call and set your watch.

Freeman & Crankshaw
top 1st col sp

PILES Cured by your own hands.
Irching, blind protruding relieved at once, and a bleeding, and
Daniel Wolf's MEXICAN FILE CURE, 20¢;
Druggists or mail. Manufactured by Mexican File Cure Company, Fifteen building, Atlanta, Ga.
Other remedies relieve; our cures without pain.
March 29-31.

OPIUM
and Whiskey Habits cured at home with our patent medicine.
Retailers sent FREE.
B.M. WOOLLEY, M.D.
Atlanta, Ga. Office 10½ Whitehall St.

Mr. B. W. Ballard, a practical Optician has charge of our Optical department.

NO CHARGE FOR EXAMINING YOUR EYES,
SPECTACLES AND EYE-GLASSES

MAIER & BERKELE,
JEWELERS.

1st col 8p. 23 Whitehall street

A. L. Delkin. Chas. H. Girardeau.

DELKIN & GIRARDEAU,

REAL ESTATE and RENTING AGENTS,

4 East Alabama Street. (near of James Bank) Telephone 278.

Having an intelligent conception of the wants of the people, we are having listed with us some of the choicest property now on the market. We find ready sale for all classes of property that is offered at market value, and property owners wishing to sell should confer with us. We are doing a fair and square business, only charging a legitimate commission on sales made by us. We do not take advantage, use deception, nor practice fraud upon the people. We do not take options on property, then chisel the buyer; have no secret schemes to work. With a progressive spirit we propose to keep abreast with the times, and by diligence, perseverance and vigorous application, build up a business second to none. We wish to serve those who approve our methods of business, and ask your patronage. Delkin & Girardeau;

June 29-under M & D 8 or top 3d col 8p pg

WEAK MANHOOD
Early Decay and Abnormal Impotency restored. Testicles enlarged, strengthened and lengthened. Testicles reduced, vice reduced.
Address ECHALANCHE INSTITUTE, 146 & 149 William St., N.Y.

Bladder Troubles
ARE CURED BY USING

Stuart's Gin AND Buchu

Dry Skin,
Failure of Strength,
Involuntary Discharge of Water,
Dark, Heavy, Muddy or Turbid Urine,
Cold Extremities and a Clammy Sweat,
Tenderness over the Region of the Bladder,
Gnawing Sensation Around the Abdomen, Painful, Scalding Sensation in Passing Water.
Palid face with gradual loss of strength are all symptoms of bladder trouble and should be promptly treated with

Stuart's Gin and Buchu

I recommend Stuart's Gin and Buchu as a Bladder and Kidney remedy. Having tried it, I know its value.

C. M. HUDSON, Atlanta, Ga.
Sold by all druggists.

nmr

MARIETTA ST.!

We offer you this week at $11,000
a corner lot on Marietta st., 100 feet front, running through to the W. & A. R. R. No better location in the city for factory requiring railroad facilities.

We can also offer 150 feet on Mitchell st. at a very close figure.
Manufacturers desiring to locate in or near Atlanta will find it to their interest to examine our list.

W. A. WEBSTER & CO
17½ Peachtree Street
May 18-23m.

MILWAUKEE AND RETURN.

In order to accommodate those who may desire to attend the convention of the Knights of Pythias, to be held in Milwaukee July 8th, 1890, the Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis railroad will issue tickets for the convention and return at the extremely low rate of $14.35 for individual ticket. Tickets to be sold for train arriving at 11:55 p.m., July 6th, also for trains leaving at 1:20 p.m. and 11:30 p.m., July 6th, 1890.

For full information, call on or write to
J. H. LATNER, S. E. Wall St.,
Office 38 Wall St., P. O. Box 305, Atlanta, Ga.

DEAFNESS CURED by Peck's Pals.
Deafness cured by Cushing's Whispers heard distinctly. Our successes are all remedies past. Illustrated book & prints free. Address or call J. S. LINDCOCK, 305 Broadwater, St. L.

THE MISSIONARIES.

WOMAN'S MISSIONARY SOCIETY OF NORTH GEORGIA CONFERENCE.

The Work of the Association at Trinity Church Yesterday—The Ladies Carried
For in the Way of Refreshments.

The Woman's Missionary society of the North Georgia conference held an interesting session yesterday.

Since the organization the ladies have gone to work in good earnest.

Promptly at 9 o'clock a. m. yesterday the conference met in business session in Trinity church. A large and appreciative audience was in attendance.

Devotional exercises were conducted by Mrs. B. H. Myrick, Mrs. W. H. LaPrade in the chair, Miss Eddie Stone recording secretary.

After roll call and response, the Dahlonega district secretary's report was, in the absence of the secretary, read by Mrs. Morgan Callaway.
Collections from this district for the past year were $89.64, with a promise of better things from this district another year.

Dalton district was reported by Mrs. Harland, and report read by Mrs. Callaway. Collections of the past year from this district were $26.14.

Gainesville district was reported by the secretary, Miss L. Dunlap. This report was full and made a clear exposition of the entire work of the district. This work was undertaken and nurtured in its infancy by Mrs. Randolph, and much of its present success is due to her untiring efforts. Gainesville is making encouraging advancement and the other districts might well catch the inspiration. Collections for past year, $312.89.

Griffin district was reported by Mrs. Blacklock, and read by Miss Stone.

LaGrange district was reported by Secretary Mrs. W. B. Higginbotham. This report was full and complete with beautiful thought. Her zealous languor about the association like a rich ben-dition, and her words of encouragement are an incentive to higher action. Collections for past year, $26.05.

Mrs. Lovejoy offered resolutions of thanks to the ladies who so kindly arranged for the delightful ride Saturday afternoon, and also to the Fulton County Electric Street railway company for their generous reduction of fare and other courtesies extended.

Forix District—The secretary, Miss Graves, being sick, the statistical report was read by Mrs.
Morgan Callaway. Collections for the year $840.29, and the figures speak for themselves.

More district was represented by Mrs.
Gregory. Collections for the year, $403.97.

Thanks to the district secretaries for help and hearty co-operation in missionary movements were offered by Mrs. W. H. LaPrade, Mrs. Morgan Callaway and Miss Eddie Stone.

"I was a sufferer for years from dyspepsia and liver troubles, and found no permanent relief until I commenced taking Ayer's Pills. They have effected a complete cure." —George W. Mooney, Walla Walla, W. T.

Walls, W. T.